French Airmen Attack German Headquarters at Serbian City. Allied Flyers Also Active at Metz.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, Jan. 24.—The German admiralty issued the following today: "A German naval aeroplane during the night of Jan. 22-23 dropped bombs on the station, barracks and docks of Dover."

The official British account of the German aeroplane attack as given out yesterday said the east coast of Kent was visited early Sunday by a hostile aeroplane which dropped nine bombs, killing one person and injuring six.

The announcement did not reveal the fact now made public by the German admiralty that the attack was made on the city of Dover.

The German report does not mention the second raid said by British war office to have been made on east coast of Kent by two aeroplanes shortly after noon yesterday.

Dover, which is opposite the French town of Calais, at the narrowest point of the English channel, is one of the chief ports of communication between Britain and the continent. It has the finest harbor on the channel and since the completion of the harbor works in 1908 it has been an important naval station.

Since the beginning of the war it has been the scene of great activity in connection with the transportation of men and supplies to the continent.

Air Raid on Monastir.

Paris, Jan. 24.—Bombardment of Monastir, in southwestern Serbia, by a squadron of forty-five French aeroplanes yesterday is reported by Havas correspondent at Saloniki. Considerable damage is said to have been done to ammunition depots and quarters of the general staff at railroad station.

A correspondent also reports that the Italian expeditionary force in Albania is now being retrained by the British who, in co-operation with Austrians, captured the Albanian town of Berat, are reported to be advancing toward Avlona, which is held by the Italians.

A German aviator is reported to be moving in the direction of Durazzo, where the Italian troops are preparing resistance.

German Announcement.

Berlin, Jan. 24.—The following official statement of the war operations was issued today by the German army headquarters:

Western front: There have been heavy artillery and aeroplane actions. Artillery action was fought at the village of Breda, where bombs fell on the hospital and on houses in the hospital court. Two civilians were killed and eight wounded. One aeroplane was shot down and inmates made prisoners.

German aviators have bombed railroad stations and military establishments behind enemy's front. An enemy air commander the Germans had the upper hand.

Eastern front: German artillery shelled and set on fire a Russian railroad train near the village of Breda.

German front: An enemy air squadron coming from Grook soil bombed Monastir. There were several casualties in killed and wounded among the inhabitants.

K. I. A. LEAP YEAR PARTY WILL BE HELD THIS EVENING

The Leap Year dancing party of the K. I. A. club girls, will be held this evening at Terpsichorean hall. Expectations today were that the affair was to be one of the most novel and best attended of a similar event given during the present season, by the younger people of the city. It appears that the girls are planning elaborately to show their male partners the female side of the species can entertain on such occasions. Taxicabs and hacks and table reservations for this evening were at a premium this afternoon. A curious feature of the affair seems to be that the young ladies insist on calling for their partners. It is going to be a Leap Year party in every sense of the word.

MILTON COLLEGE CO-ED HOSTESS TO SOCIETIES SATURDAY AT HOME HERE

Party members of the two literary societies of Milton college on Saturday evening were the guests of Miss Esther Barker, a Milton college student, and her sister, Miss Mary Barker, at their home at 1400 North Avenue. A combination literary and musical program was enjoyed during the evening. Light refreshments were served. The party returned to Milton in an extra passenger coach on the Milwaukee road "dog run."

SUBCOMMITTEE PLANS FOR G. O. P. MEETING

MEETING IS HELD IN CHICAGO TO ARRANGE FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION IN JUNE.

ANXIOUS FOR HARMONY

Party Will Make Concessions to Prevent Repetition of Division Like That of 1912—Quiet on Roosevelt.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Members of the republican national sub-committee on arrangements met here today and discussed plans for the party convention to be held June 7 in Chicago.

Though empowered by the national committee to select a temporary chairman, the committee members declared that no steps would be taken at this meeting toward selecting the man whose gavel would open the 1916 convention.

Consider Seating Arrangements.

When the sub-committee went into executive session it had before it blue prints of the coliseum where the convention is to be held, and a tentative seating arrangement which would accommodate 12,500 persons, 1,300 more than were provided for in the 1912 convention. Fred Upham, chairman of the Chicago convention, met with the sub-committee.

Informal conferences of committee members preceded the executive session and there appeared to be a general disposition to forecast that all reasonable concessions would be made to assure harmony in the ranks of the party which was divided after the 1912 convention.

None of the committee members would say that the harmony plans should extend to the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt as the republican standard bearer and none would permit himself to be quoted as saying that such nomination should not be made.

Strong Man Can Win.

"I believe any strong man that the republicans nominate, can defeat Mr. Wilson," said Committee President Murphy of New Jersey. "It is a republican year and we are certain of victory. The convention is going to be a free and open-minded body. No party will call at this time who the candidate will be."

Chairman Charles D. Hillis, said no selection of a temporary chairman would be made at the meeting.

"The candidate will be born in the convention. There will be no arrangement in advance. There are a number of active candidates and the judgment of the delegates will determine the candidate nominated," said Mr. Hillis.

Burton Visits Chicago.

Former Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, who was here today on his way to Michigan, where he is to speak tomorrow, said he was washed out by the ice during the night and today the area within the wall is flooded. One of the government dredges is submerged, the loss will be many thousands of dollars as the water over acres of space will have to be pumped out again after the break is mended. The wall was constructed as a preliminary step toward building a canal over the rapids as an aid to navigation.

The stage of the river at Davenport has been approaching the danger point, being 12.4 feet this morning. It was apparent over night and it is thought that the crisis has been reached.

Illinois River Rises.

People, Ill., Jan. 24.—With the Illinois river still rising, residents along the lowlands today were fleeing to safety. Hundreds have been rescued from their homes in boats. In many places the water has been cut off by farm lands inundated. Reports from points up and down the river indicate enormous damage to farm property and livestock.

FALLS INTO TRUCK LOADED WITH BOXES

Typist Jumps or Falls from Sixteenth Story and Escapes Instantly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Jan. 24.—Miss Minnie B. Warner, 24, a stenographer, employed by the Railway Age Gazette, plunged from the sixteenth floor of the Trans-continental building on Dearborn street today. Her fall was broken by an auto truck loaded with paper boxes.

At a hospital physician declared her skull was fractured and her arms sustained probably fatal internal injuries. The police said they believed the young woman jumped and did not fall from the ledge. Her employers said they knew of no reason why she should seek to end her life.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DEAD IN CALIFORNIA

Fred C. Funk Dies at Stockton—Remains Are Now on the Way Here for Burial.

Announcement was made today that the death of Fred C. Funk, a former resident of Janesville, Wis., occurred at Stockton, Calif. The remains are now on their way east. They will be interred in Oak Hill cemetery upon arrival.

The deceased was thirty-three years of age. He was born at Montgomery, Ill., and came to Janesville with his parents who, up to their death, resided on Eastern avenue. He was married several years ago at St. Louis.

Surviving, besides the widow, are one sister, Mrs. A. Scidmore of this city, and seven brothers: John P. and Edward Funk of Chicago; Joseph, Charles and August Funk of Minneapolis; Louis Funk of Beloit; and Henry Funk of this city.

Mr. Funk was a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Official Dispatches Indicate Complicity of Turkey in Torpedoing of British Ship in the Mediterranean.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 24.—Official dispatches from abroad indicating that Turkey might acknowledge that one of her submarines sank the British liner Persia, promised to revive the diplomatic features of that disaster.

Until the intimation came that Turkey might assume responsibilities it was generally assumed in official quarters that cause of the sinking of the liner would be numbered among the mysteries of the war.

It was indicated that any inquiry which might be directed to Turkey would not be sent until after Vienna had been heard from. No report had been received on the subject today from Ambassador Penfield at Vienna.

FIFTEEN MEN DIE IN BOILER BLAST TODAY AT BUFFALO

Three-story Building Crumbles Following Explosion—Score Injured.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 24.—Fifteen men were killed and as many more probably fatally injured in an explosion at the plant of the Kellogg Blower company, on Harrison street here this afternoon.

Fire Escape Injury.

Without warning, the boiler in the plant exploded with terrific force and the three-story building crumbled to the ground, bending two scores of workmen in its ruins. Few escaped uninjured, and these entered into the work of rescuing their less fortunate comrades. Fire broke out in the ruins of the plant. The school in the fire fighting apparatus to the scene.

The explosion broke every pane of glass in School 26, across the street, and threw the several hundred pupils into a panic. The school in the ruins was sounded and children marched out without disorder.

REFUGEES LEAVING FLOODED DISTRICT

People With Homes Near Colorado River Forced to Leave Because of High Water.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Yuma, Ariz., Jan. 24.—First hand reports of probable loss of life and great property damage on the California side of the Colorado river began arriving here with refugees today. The town already is crowded with refugees from the Arizona side of the river.

John S. Eddon, the first man in from the California side, said his house in the Bard Indian reservation unit of Yuma irrigation project was washed away. He said he took refuge on the roof and floated about for six hours before being able to reach land. While on the house he saw a man, woman and two children floating by clinging to a buoy. A relief party left here bound for Bard reservation and other flooded districts.

HAS NOVEL SCHEME TO RAISE REVENUE

Tax on Explosives and Ten Percent Ad Valorem on War Implements Would Provide Defense Fund.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 24.—Senator Robinson of Arkansas today introduced a bill proposing a tax of two cents a pound on all high explosives manufactured in the United States and a tax of ten per cent ad valorem on all implements of war. It would not apply to materials for the United States.

Senator Robinson contended such a measure would provide sufficient revenue for national defense and warrant repeal of the emergency stamp tax.

RANCHER'S SLAYERS FACE FIRING SQUAD OF CARRANZA'S MEN

Duran Brothers Die at Juarez Cemetery With Curses Against Americans Upon Their Lips.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 24.—Fifty Americans, among whom were several women and also representatives of the United States government, saw a Carranza firing squad execute the murder of Bert Avera on Sunday. The Duran brothers were executed legally at dawn in the cemetery at Juarez, Bernardo Duran, an American with his last breath and begging mercy for Federico.

The bullets of the firing squad killed Federico, but Bernardo was conscious after he fell. The officers commanding the firing squad gave him the "mercy shot" through the head.

The bodies of both Mexicans were buried immediately, but that of Bernardo, who confessed to have fired the shots that killed the American ranchman, was examined to satisfy a doubt concerning the identity of the slayer.

Douglas Downs, an American who was with Avera seeking stolen cows, but escaped the bullets of Mexicans, had declared after seeing Bernardo Duran in jail that the prisoner was not the murderer.

At the Juarez cemetery, however, when the face of the executed man was exposed, Downs admitted he had been mistaken.

MADISON CONVENTION TO DRAW BIG CROWD

EXPECT 1,500 DELEGATES WILL BE PRESENT AT REPUBLICAN MEETING.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Gathering is An Expression of Confidence in Gov. Phillips, Say Leaders—Bossard-McGovern Tangle.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 24.—The political pot boiled over in Wisconsin during the last week with the announcements of the candidacies of Otto Bossard of La Crosse and Former Gov. McGovern for governor. From this point of vantage, for everything political naturally centers in Madison sooner or later, the conservative republicans seem to be entering what is to be a most exciting campaign with a decided advantage. That, of course, will not be admitted by La Follette men for public notice, but in conversations the followers of Pompadour Bob admit that the prospect is not a rosy one.

Expect 1,500 Delegates.

The big event of the coming week is the republican state convention in Madison. The progress has been long ago given up the attempt to belittle that meeting. Reports from all parts of the state indicate that the attendance will not be under 1,500, and some estimates place it even higher. When it is remembered that the convention held in Madison in June, 1914, attracted an attendance of 600 and that this meeting promises to more than double that figure, it speaks well for the enthusiasm of the real republicans of the state.

That the convention will be a tribute to Gov. Phillips and his administration goes without saying, but it must be remembered that this meeting is not called to consider state politics except as the delegates may talk around them. The real purpose is to nominate delegates who will go to Chicago to give Wisconsin a voice in the proceedings of the republican national convention.

Wisconsin's candidate for president who will truly represent the party, and to do Wisconsin's part in his selection they are determined to send representative men to the convention.

No Violation Of Law.

An amusing incident of the week has been the continued attempt on the part of the La Follette press to prove that this convention will be a violation of the "contract with the primary law" in the first place it is pointed out that the primary law does not apply to the election of delegates to a national convention, except that it is to be conducted in the same manner as those for candidates who seek nominations in the primary. In the second place it is hard to find 1,500 citizens to select delegates, each district being represented, can be any more of a violation of the spirit of any law than is the selection of Mr. La Follette as a delegate by Senator La Follette and a hand-picked conference.

The departure of the senator for Washington, by the way, was as was expected, by the senator left behind him the memory of his tour of the state, and his supporters have been devoting themselves during the week to the task of convincing the people that it was a success. In some parts of the state the reason for his going was the Philippine bill, although no reports of important action in the Philippine bill are heard, that subject, in others, it was said, his tour was closed because of illness. However that may be, the senator did leave behind him strained situations in several districts.

Third District Muddle.

The situation in the Third district, represented in congress by John M. Nelson, has not improved. The selection of Michael J. O'Brien and John J. Blaine for district delegates by the La Follette state is stirring up trouble. The district has large numbers of Scandinavian voters, and they are contended by those voters that they are entitled to representation by their friends. It is aware that Mr. O'Brien is a candidate for congress, also. The name of E. B. Steensland of Madison, known to thousands of his constituents in the district as a progressive leader, has been suggested as a running mate with Senator Platt Whitman of Highland. They would give the district a representation in the national convention of two republicans who would need no label. Mr. Blaine, in addition to his record of having joined with Senator La Follette in repudiating the primary law in the late election, still is remembered as the man who solicited funds for President Wilson in the 1912 campaign. It is hard for republicans to understand how he can represent them.

From the Second district comes reports of another bad situation from a La Follette standpoint. The selection of A. A. Forre and George W. Krumey of Plymouth for district delegates from the second district at a meeting held in the Sixth district has aroused the ire of many La Follette men. The district paper, the Pioneer in the district charges that this meeting was a star-chamber affair, and that a small number of La Follette men were invited. Notice is served on Senator La Follette by the paper that the action will cost him at least one delegate and it is declared that if the names go on the ballot an untried delegation will be elected.

Recent McGovern's Candidacy.

While these and other troubles disturb those who are trying to elect a La Follette delegation to the national convention, McGovern's candidacy is not a factor in the race. The Madison State Journal, La Follette spokesman, is frank in saying that Mr. McGovern has no business in the field and in demanding his withdrawal from the race. On the other hand, the River Falls Times, also a progressive paper, declares that Mr. Bossard should quit. It uses the language:

"But the hope that McGovern's candidacy would restore harmony received a severe setback. That very evening some hours after his acceptance of the call, the same old center of the fifth progressive gubernatorial candidate into the field two years ago, met at Madison and decided upon a second candidate. Otto Bossard was chosen. He was a man who proved properly halter-broke and fails to lead easily, which is an important point with his groom, they are expected to look further for a third or fourth man, trained and ready to lead. All of which does not tend to cheer the La Follette contingent which has its headquarters in Madison."

Supreme Court Ruling Sets Aside Objections to Its Constitutionality.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Jan. 24.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the income tax law.

Chief Justice White gave the court's decision, sweeping aside all the many objections to its constitutionality in whole or in part.

Chief Justice White announced the decision in the case of Frank R. Brushaber, stockholder of the Union Pacific railroad, who sought to enjoin the company from paying the tax on the ground that it was unconstitutional.

Most of Justice White's decision was directed toward overruling the contention that the income tax amendment provided a hitherto unknown power of taxation. Going far into the history of tax legislation, the chief justice concluded the argument was without merit.

Advancing to other points, the chief justice held that the tax was not unconstitutional because it was retroactive.

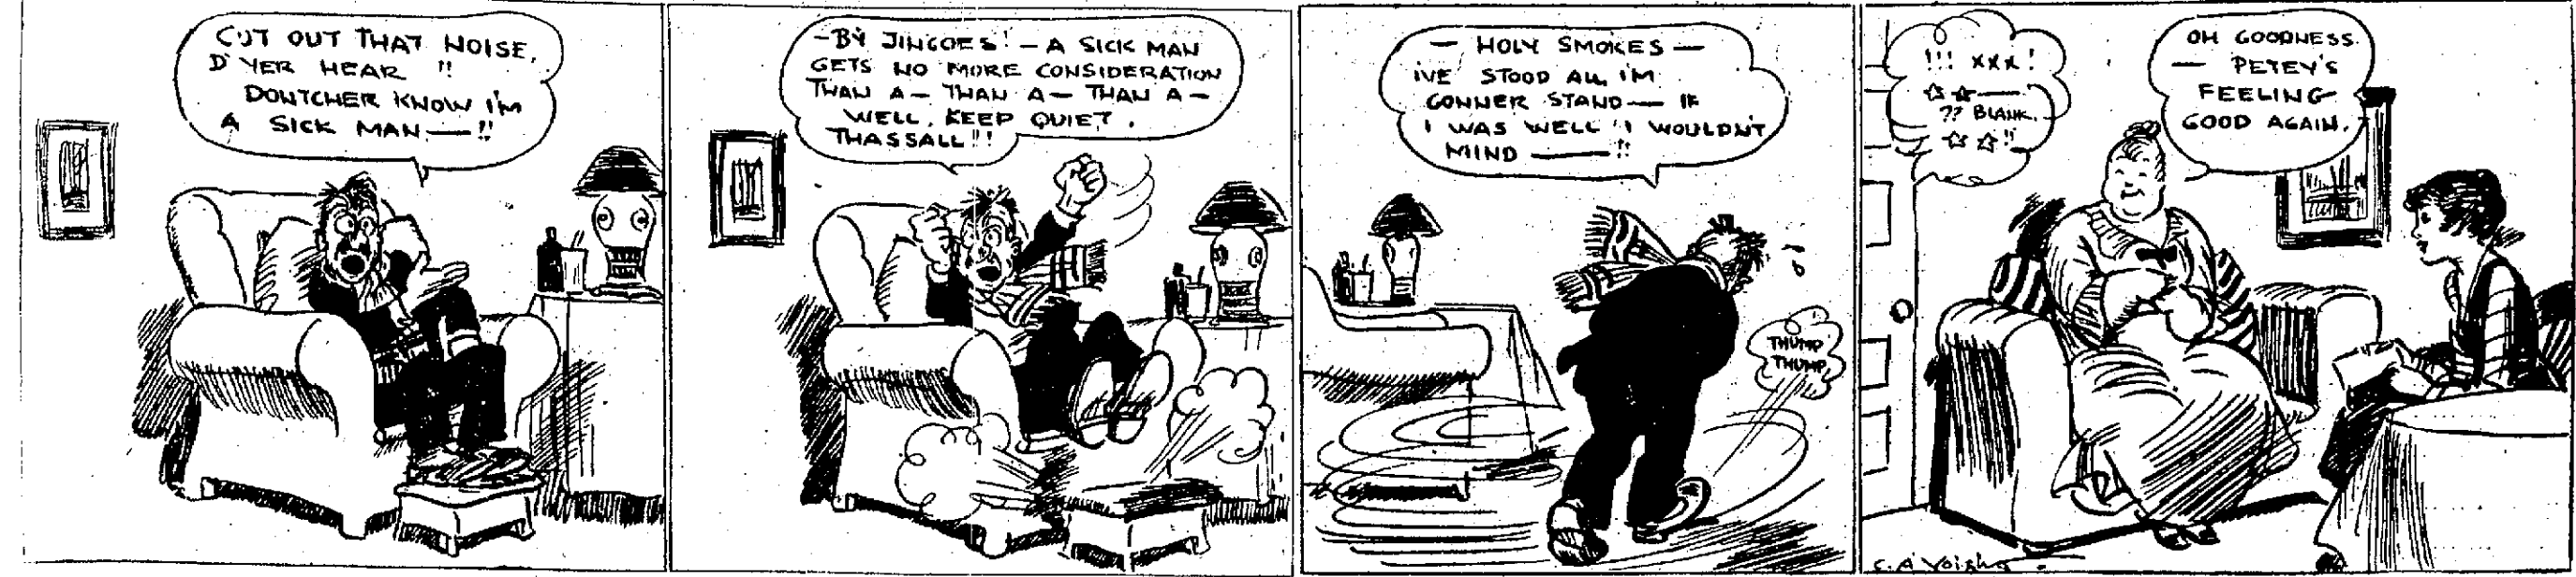

Grouping in a number of other contentions against the law, all based on the clause of the constitution requiring uniformity in taxation, Chief Justice White pronounced the clause lacking in merit because of previous decision which determined the clause exacted only a geographical uniformity.

EASTLAND INQUIRY IS RESUMED TODAY

Defense Puts Finishing Touches on Its Case to Show That Disaster Was Unpreventable.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 24.—The second week of the examination in federal court here of the six men indicted on charges of neglect as the result of the turning over of the steamship Eastland was resumed today. The defense today was expected to put the finishing touches on its evidence, which it has been endeavoring to show that the disaster resulted from circumstances outside the control of those who owned, controlled or inspected the ill-fated vessel. Attorneys for both sides are uncertain as to the length of the hearing, but they agree it cannot be completed under four or five days, and it may run into the third week.

STANFORD ATHLETES TO COMPETE IN THE EASTERN SCHEDULES

Dates Of Important Rowing Events Announced.—Stanford To Send Track Team To Eastern Meets.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Jan. 24.—With the selection of a date for the intercollegiate regatta to be made at the meeting of the Board of Stewards next Friday, the principal college rowing should be in the coming season will have been formally scheduled. Three dates have been tentatively named for the Poughkeepsie regatta and it is thought that the stewards will definitely decide upon either June 17, 24 or July 1 at the coming conference.

Tidal conditions and college examination dates conflict badly, and it has proved a hard proposition to date to fix upon a day which is convenient and satisfactory to all the colleges which annually compete in this regatta. Special care is required since one and possibly two of the Pacific Coast college crews will be invited to race on the Hudson against Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania. Leland Stanford, however, which sent such a remarkable eight to Poughkeepsie last season when it finished second to Cornell, has already been informally invited to return for the 1916 races. If the regatta should be held in the three mile race at Oakland, Cal., on April 8, by either Washington or California, it would be necessary to extend the invitation to the winning crew as well as Stanford. The latter eight, which is almost intact, made a great hit at Poughkeepsie last June and the regatta authorities are desirous that the Stanford crew should again this year. If the eight was defeated in a close race in the Pacific Coast contest, it is quite likely that there would be two favorites, each of whom would be expected to win.

Dates of Races. Aside from the uncertainty of the date for this event, the schedule for the leading dual, triangular and so-called championship races is as follows:

April 8, Saturday.—Pacific Coast Intercollegiate Regatta, Oakland, Cal.
April 20, Thursday.—Princeton vs. Harvard, Princeton, N. J.
April 27, Thursday.—Pennsylvania vs. Yale, Philadelphia.
May 6, Saturday.—Pennsylvania vs. Navy, Annapolis, Md.
May 13, Saturday.—American Henley, Philadelphia, Pa.
May 20, Saturday.—Harvard vs. Cornell, Boston, Mass.
May 20, Saturday.—Navy vs. Syracuse, Annapolis, Md.
May 27, Saturday.—Yale, Princeton and Cornell, Ithaca, N. Y.
June 23, Friday.—Yale vs. Harvard, New London, Conn.

West Out For Track. In addition to sending its crew to the intercollegiate regatta, Stanford is planning to enter a track and field team in the intercollegiate championships to be held in all probability at Harvard on May 26-27. It is proposed to send the California college under stars east a week or ten days in advance of these games and it is likely that Stanford will be seen in one of two dual track meets with eastern universities before the championship games. The traveling and lodging expenses of the crew and track team will cost at least $5,000, so that it can be seen that Stanford has mapped out an ambitious and expensive invasion of eastern sports fields for the coming season.

Show Activity. Stanford, however, is not the only western university which believes that its athletes can hold their own with the best of the east. Intersectional track, football and crew contests are becoming more frequent each year and the authorities are encouraging these meetings as far as possible within reason. The eagerness of the Pacific Coast collegians to come to athletic trips with their older eastern rivals is shown in both speech and action and their faith in their ability to hold their own is typified in a statement made recently on the subject when a prominent Pacific Coast authority said:

Just a few years ago athletics in the

FEBRUARY SCHEDULE HARD FOR LAKOTAS

I. A. C. Team, Oswego and Peoria Tigers Will Play Games Here Next Month.—Chicago Five Here Saturday.

A hard schedule has been arranged for the Lakotas during the next three weeks, and the Lakotas will put forth every effort to win all the games in order to substantiate their championship claims. The coming Saturday night the Lakotas line up against the fast West Side Browns, one of the two best teams in Chicago. The game promises to be even better than that with Oswego, for the Browns are exponents of the true western basketball and all stalling tactics will be eliminated.

On February fifth the Peoria Tigers, champions of the Illinois title, will play here. This team carries an enviable reputation and it is the first meeting between the two sides. On the eleventh and twelfth of February, the Oswego, or Chicago Five, will be here for two games and the Lakotas are hoping to take both of them. Two new players are to be secured for the Co. E five and they will be expected to play better than when the Lakotas were beaten. On the seventeenth the I. A. C. team of Chicago plays here. This team is the strongest in Chicago, and their prowess is shown by the fact that on Saturday they beat the Michigan Aggies 50 to 18. This promises to be the best game on the Cardinals' schedule. On the twenty-third and fourth either Dan Wenz or Rockford Co. E, will be brought here for two games.

MORRIS MILLER

Just about now is the time when we're going to hear about a lot of fighters drawing the color line. That's because the New York state boxing commission has kicked into the discard the rule which prohibits the matching of a white performer against one of color. Time was when the lightweights, the middleweights, the featherweights and the bantams would have been affected. Now the black cloud threatens only the heavyweights. Champion Jess Willard frankly drew the color line as soon as he had whipped Johnson. He didn't want any of the game of Sam McVea, of Joe Jeannette or Sam Langford and didn't try to hide the true facts.

To this trio has now been added Harry Willis, a lanky brown man from down New Orleans way, who is rough and tough and is possessed of more or less boxing ability. These four fellows in fighting trim and anxious to get a shot at some of the big money that's paid by the fight fans for heavyweight scraps, we can look for some of the big boys to put on an awful dodging specialty.

Sherwood Magee is certain that the Boston club under Houghton will be the most popular team in Boston next season. "You have to be in Boston to appreciate what an idol Percy Houghton is. He has the whole city of Boston at his feet, and by purchasing the Braves he will be more popular than ever. The Braves have the largest park in the country, and it is going to be filled more than once next season. Every club owner in the league is going to benefit by Houghton's advent into base ball. Its going to be a distinct uplift to the game. I predict right now that the combination of Houghton and Stallings means that the Braves will get back in the pennant-winning class. Johnny Meyer is in good health and will play in 150 games next season, and that in itself means the championship. I also expect to have another good year. My work in 1915 was by no means poor, for I hit 280 in 156 games, and I will boost my way over the 300 mark in the next campaign."

That Jess Willard-Frank Moran scrap is still far from a reality. After Jack Curley signed Willard he went after Moran, only to learn that Ted Rickard and Sam McCracken had already signed the Pittsburgh heavyweight to a contract calling for $17,000. This leaves the match in the air again, as Moran declared in New York recently that he will not consider any other offer to box Willard until April, as Rickard and McCracken say they will stage the match indoors during March. Willard is getting $32,500 from Curley, and the Rickard-McCracken syndicate wired Tom Jones, offering him a like amount.

Huggins may never get a chance to show what he could do with that extra material, as Stinecarr, after looking over the figures quoted him, declared that apparently some mistake had been made, as he had asked for a price on the Cardinals and had received a valuation on the city of St. Louis.

"More new game laws," says Peter Carney, "were enacted in 1915 than in any previous year excepting 1911. Yes, and more new games were invented. Look at this golf-pool that Jack Doyle doped out during the course of a nightmare."

COLONIAL TROOPS HATE TO LEAVE COMRADES IN GRAVES AT GALLIPOLI.

London, Jan. 24. (By Mail).—Australia and New Zealanders are drifting into London since the abandonment of the British positions on Gallipoli peninsula. In London tea rooms, on street corners and elsewhere the tanned, burly Australians, the dusky Maoris and lighter complexioned New Zealanders meet. They talk a great deal among themselves about the abandoned dead. "I wasn't leaving the place that hurt; it's the thought of a fellow's best friends buried in those gullies and ravines," said an Anzac fighter today.

At midnight the number of casualties suffered by the Anzacs; of lonely cemeteries under the cliffs, and in Shrapnel Gully; of burials under cover of darkness to escape the enemy's fire; and of midnight funeral services where the officiating priest or clergyman could be heard and not seen. Almost everyone of the thousands of graves at Gallipoli is marked with a cross—sometimes bearing a name, but more often reading "To the Memory of Fifty Australians," or "To the Memory of Fifty New Zealanders." To the Maoris it was not so hard to leave their dead. They believe the place where a dead man lies is sacred; watched over by spirits who would do evil to intruders. Grotesque wooden idols with sea shell eyes perch garishly on sticks above the dead. The true spirit of humanity which animates the Turks in their fighting is shown in the stories of the Anzacs. An instance of this was shown in May when both sides agreed to a burial armistice. An imaginary line was drawn through No Man's Land between the trenches and pickets from both sides paroled. It while searching parties from both scoured the underbrush of the hills and hollows. The Turks brought the Christian dead to the line, the Anzacs doing likewise with their slain Mohammedans. Religious rites were hurriedly observed on both sides as the bodies were placed in hastily dug trenches. Crosses were erected and the armistice came to an end. It is this spirit on the part of the Turk that makes the Anzacs believe that the last resting places of their dead, crosses, inscriptions and all, will not be molested. Hundreds of Anzacs

CANADA PAYS HONOR TO ATHLETIC HERO

"Glad" Murphy.

"Glad" Murphy, injured football hero of Canada, was recently the beneficiary of a rugby game between the Hamilton Tigers and the Argonauts of Toronto in which $5,000 was realized. The supremacy of amateur sports in Canada is seen in Murphy's tremendous popularity, rivaling that of Ty Cobb or Marty in the United States. Murphy, a star member of the Argonaut team and famous in every other field of sport, fractured his spine in a game some weeks ago.

INDIANA GLAD TO GET JUMBO STIEHM

Ewald O. ("Jumbo") Stiehm.

Indiana's new football coach, Ewald O. Stiehm, a former Wisconsin star, will receive the highest salary ever paid a coach at the Hoosier school. Stiehm, who has lost only two games in five years, will go to Bloomington at the conclusion of his contract with Nebraska and will have charge of spring practice.

Jews Meet in Chicago TO DISCUSS THEIR PLANS FOR RELIEF IN AFFAIRS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Chicago, Ill., Jan. 24.—Plans for calling a congress that would represent all Jews in America that would take steps to settle for all time the "Jewish question" in Europe and other continents were begun here today at a convention of Jewish organizations of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. The convention was the result of a call issued by a recent gathering of the Knights of Zion and nearly a score of other organizations responded by sending delegates.

There were three sessions of today's convention. The morning meeting was routine in character, heard welcoming addresses and a "keynote" speech, and appointed committees. In the afternoon resolutions were in order and among them were one directing that the Jews "like all other peoples of the earth are in any country and under any government endowed with the inalienable rights of equality before the law with all other citizens, or subjects of that nation or government."

It pointed out that the end of the world war would be an acceptable time at which to settle the question of discrimination against the Jews and that members of the race had proved their right to such settlement "by their unexampled sacrifices and suffering in the present war as well as in times past. The preamble added: "Until peace comes the Jews of America must speak for the Jews of the world."

Other resolutions presented to the convention dealt with the Palestinian question and the problem of caring for Jewish immigrants to the United States, especially influx of the latter that is expected at the close of the war. Tonight's session debated the advisability of organizing a permanent congress of Jewish organizations for the states of the middle west.

INSURANCE MEN CONVE NE AT MILWAUKEE TODAY FOR FORMING A FEDERATION.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—Representative insurance men from all sections of Wisconsin gathered here today in the form of a federation of state agents. It will include every line of insurance business—fire, life accident, health casualty and surety, whether based on a stock, mutual or fraternal basis.

The meeting was called at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Board of Fire Underwriters' rooms in the Mitchell building. The object of the organization will be to furnish its members and the public with authoritative information on the origin, nature and effect of the various lines connected with the insurance business.

meeting, and who were interested in the work of the organization, are: Alfred T. Hipke, New Holstein, representing the Farm Mutuals and Chas. F. Lamb, Madison, representing the general mutuals.

Among those scheduled to speak this afternoon are George D. Webb, Chicago, president of the National Council of Insurance Federation executives; Mark T. McKee, Detroit, secretary-treasurer of the national council and Wade Fetzer and J. A. Morrison, Chicago.

It is planned to form local organizations of the association in every county an affiliate with the national organization.

Paying Calls in Russia. Town life in Russia is as different as can be from life in the country districts. One curious custom is the after dinner call. People call on their friends after dinner at night, or even after the theater, paying calls at midnight being quite the thing to do. The Russian dinner always begins with a sideboard course of cold meats, hors d'oeuvres, etc.—that is to say, the dishes are laid out on the sideboard and the guests help themselves before sitting down to partake of the regular meal. It is from this custom that we derive the term "service a la Russe" as applied to dinners at which the carving is done from the sideboard.

Good reading for those who are looking for bargains—the want ad page.

There are a number of good, sensible cigarettes on the market—Fatimas are not the only ones.

But Fatimas are the best-liked and best-selling of all the cigarettes costing over 5c.

Of course, your taste may be different—you may not like Fatimas as well as all these thousands of other men do.

But you can't deny that they are worth trying—not only for the delicious taste that has made them so famous, but also to see just how SENSIBLE they really are—how COOL and comfortable to the throat and tongue and how free they are from after-effects.

Clip out these tests and see if you can find any cigarette that meets them as well as good old Fatimas do.

Make this important test today.

Two tests for any cigarette

The taste of the cigarette—according to a leading tobacco journal—is up to the smoker. That you should look for the cigarette that you are going to smoke for a steady smoke. Here are a couple of tests that may help the average smoker to choose more wisely between different kinds of cigarettes.

The first test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette, draw and hold the smoke in your mouth for a few seconds, then inhale it. If it is cool and pleasant to the throat and tongue, it is a good cigarette. If it is hot and unpleasant, it is a bad cigarette.

The second test is for coolness, which means more comfort to the throat and tongue. Light any cigarette, draw and hold the smoke in your mouth for a few seconds, then inhale it. If it is cool and pleasant to the throat and tongue, it is a good cigarette. If it is hot and unpleasant, it is a bad cigarette.

But with another cigarette in which the taste is less strong, even though the heat is of the same grade, you will find that you are able to smoke it for a longer time without feeling any effect from it.

FATIMA was the Only Cigarette Awarded the Grand Prize, the highest award given to any cigarette at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

INTEREST INCREASES.

Interest in the forthcoming state convention of republicans at Madison on Thursday is increasing when it is suggested that aside from selecting the four delegates at large and two delegates from each congressional district as representatives of the state at the national republican convention in Chicago, the selection of a choice for United States senator may be taken up.

This, it had been expected, would be left to some later convention, but the entrance of former State Senator A. L. Kreutzer of Wausau, into the race for the convention endorsement and with former State Senator John M. Whitehead and M. G. Jeffris of this city, already in the field, it will mean that something will be done in this matter next Thursday.

In his initial statement announcing his candidacy, Senator John M. Whitehead stated he would leave his candidacy in the hands of the state convention. This left the field open for others and it was not until Senator Kreutzer of Wausau was endorsed by his county convention last Saturday that M. G. Jeffris permitted the statement to be made that if the Madison gathering took up the senatorial question his name would be presented.

The question of selecting a candidate to oppose Robert M. La Follette for the senatorial nomination is apparently one of the most interesting topics of discussion in political circles this year. The only question appears to be to select the strongest man possible. Friends of Senator Whitehead urge his candidacy on his record as a public official and his type of manhood.

Senator Kreutzer is urged on equal grounds and his fellow townsmen at their convention insisted he become a candidate although he was reluctant to oppose Senator Whitehead. The same is true of Mr. Jeffris' position, but as the field is an open one and the desire to obtain the strongest material possible it is probable that other names will be considered when the convention meets and the contest will be a spirited one although entirely friendly.

With two aspirants for the honors in the field Rock county will be much interested in the outcome of the deliberation at Madison and the race will be watched with interest. Both Senator Whitehead and Mr. Jeffris have warm, earnest friends who desire their nomination and the convention as a convention will have its work picked out for them to decide who to honor as the standard bearer during the long campaign months before the September primary when the vote will be taken.

THE JANESVILLE FAIR.

Nineteen Sixteen promises to mark an epoch in the history of the Janesville Park association. Plans for the coming Janesville fair in August next, already outlined, show that the early bird catches the worm and Janesville is going to offer attractions that will be well worth seeing. The suggestion is made that there be a night fair as well as a day one. It is worth consideration. Many a farmer works during the week set for the fair with his harvest. He could visit the fair in the evening if it were open and would be much benefited. Of course the plan has its disadvantages; if it does not cost too much it might be well worth the experiment. The Janesville fair will not interfere with any other fair in the state. It will aid materially the Rock County fair at Evansville and will bring to this city the cream of the horses being trained for track purposes during the season. Janesville has made an enviable record for itself for handling race meets and way back in the dark ages, when pool selling was permitted, Janesville was the center of the harness horse game of the middle west. The crown is about to be returned to the local association in this respect and at the same time the exhibits in stock and farm produce is known to have been second to none in Wisconsin last year, so why worry about the coming fair? In the words of the late press agent, it will be "Bigger, Better, Grander, Larger, Greater, Finer, More Entertaining, ever." Watch the date. Enter the baby beef contest? Enter the calf contest. Prepare to enter the fine stock you have on your farms, but start early and boost the Janesville fair and keep your eye on the Rock County fair, which follows.

WINTER THOUGHTS.

These winter days, the thoughts of the persons seated comfortably in their own warm homes should turn to those not so fortunate as they. Right here at home are many who suffer the agonies of cold and pangs of hunger and the associations organized to relieve their sufferings are pressed to meet all demands. If this be true at home, how much more so is it true in starving Poland, desolated Serbia and devastated Belgium?

There is imperative need of money and food for these countries. Thousands of innocent non-combatants will die of want, the victims of this savage warfare that has made veritable beasts out of the armed forces that have invaded these former peaceful settlements.

The Gazette will receive and forward to the proper authorities all funds that may be contributed for the relief of these people. Some money has already been received and sent forward and much more is needed. It is well worth considering these poor, suffering, starving, freezing people while seated around your warm rooms and see if from your plenty you can not spare money to alleviate suffering elsewhere.

THE SMALL BOY.

The small boy rejoices in this cold weather with its snow and ice. The sliding, the skating, the act of door exercising it brings means health and better and stronger men for the future. Of course it means also cleaning sidewalks and annoyance to the older generation, but then think of the enjoyment for the younger people and smile and do your share. Nor is the outdoor sport restricted to the boys alone. The younger generation of the fairer sex also go in for all sorts of outdoor enjoyments which speaks well for the future and should be encouraged. Let everyone enjoy winter while it is here, for it will soon be spring, with rains and mud and other annoyances.

The people of the United States can't be expected to give as liberally to Belgium relief as usual, as automobile tires and gasoline have advanced so much.

The weather bureau can't be expected to make any confident predictions about the coming of spring until it is learned what the ground-hog does.

That St. Louis man who was arrested for sending incoherent telegrams to the president, was perhaps merely trying to say it in ten words.

There would not be so much trouble about getting congress to stop child labor if it was merely a bill to protect hogs.

The gripe epidemic beats even German efficiency in closing the munition factories.

CITY EDITORS RE-ELECT HUNTER ASSOCIATION HEAD

State Organization, Assembled in Milwaukee, Selected Madison for July Meeting Place.
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24.—Paul F. Hunter, editor of the Sheboygan Press, was re-elected president of the Wisconsin City Editors' association at the closing session of the semi-annual convention held in the Press club Sunday morning.

Other officers chosen were: Vice president, Walter T. Marlett, Kenosha News; secretary, Louis P. Torreyson, Oshkosh Northwestern; treasurer, John R. Wolf, Evening Wisconsin, Milwaukee; members of the executive committee, F. E. Hunter, George E. Kull, Appleton Post; David Atwood, Janesville Gazette; A. W. Mackey, Manitowish Herald; Lyle G. Phillips, Fond du Lac Reporter.

The next semi-annual meeting will be held in Madison, Wis., in July. The heads of the schools of journalism in Wisconsin and Charles Dean and H. M. Clark of the Associated Press and J. L. O'Sullivan of the United Press were elected honorary members of the association. Arthur Herwig, assistant city editor of the Evening Wisconsin, was made a member of the organization.

Following a discussion of the work the Wisconsin schools of journalism are doing in training future newspaper men, the following resolution was adopted: Whereas, Certain educational institutions in Wisconsin have established courses in journalism and made them a part of a certain curriculum, and Whereas, That inasmuch as we sincerely appreciate any effort on the part of educators to improve newspaper work.

Therefore, Be it resolved that we as members of the Wisconsin City Editors' association, individually and as an organization, express our approval of such efforts and offer our hearty cooperation, and be it further resolved, That we elect as honorary members the heads of the schools of journalism in Wisconsin and invite them to attend the next semi-annual meeting of the association.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE.

Those Six.
Lo, the poor India now is seen
In robes exacting,
And even waxen rich, I ween,
A movie acting.

(This week's mystery.
The three men, including the one in the middle, looked neither to right nor north as they proceeded down the deserted alleyway.)

Suddenly a small figure, clothed in rags and satin, burst from a narrow passage-way and handed a small square of paper, marked with a broken red circle, to the fourth, hitherto-not-mentioned man.

All started back in fear, but the short one said, "Bah! It's only a street gambler, and they took the bearer of the note and stuffed him back into the passage-way, during which operation he talked rapidly in some strange gibberish, apparently he had choked with a hot eggbeater.

The three men burned the note over a tallow candle and pursued their way, including the two on the ends.

"Hail!" cried a deep voice suddenly. At the same instant a sudden voice cried deeply, "The red circle of Arta Gwan!"

The short man seized an ash can, quickly turned it down, and sat on it, exclaiming exultingly, "Now let 'em try to get out!"

All four laughed hoarsely, especially the one behind. Their ruse had succeeded.

(To the reader submitting the first correct solution of this mystery a solid iron back scratcher will be presented.—Ed.)

Growing Bananas.

Bananas are, as a rule, planted out systematically in rows, the "suckers" being placed at an average of ten feet apart. The banana plant bears only one bunch at a time, but it is a quick grower, yielding its fruit in twelve to fourteen months. When the plant is about six months old a second "sucker" or shoot is allowed to spring from the root, a third after the ninth month, and so on, so that after the first year there is a continuous crop being reaped.—London Standard.

EDGERTON HIGHS DEFEAT REEDSBURG BY GOOD SCORE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Edgerton, Jan. 24.—The high school basketball team added another victory to their list Saturday night when they defeated Reedsburg by a score of 42 to 16. The feature of the game was the cleaning playing of both teams, as very few fouls were called. Referee Cub Buck as usual, gave eminent satisfaction. It was a great workout for the local team in preparation for its next game with Madison on the local floor two weeks hence. The excellent showing of the local five thus far this season is causing Edgerton fans to entertain visions of a championship. The preliminary game between the Juniors and the Boy Sportsmen resulted in a victory for the Juniors by a score of 16 to 10.

Mrs. F. J. Schutte was called to Chicago Saturday in account of the sickness of her brother-in-law.

Mrs. Will Thomas of Madison, spent Sunday with relatives in Edgerton and vicinity.

P. N. Johnson of Stoughton, transacted business in the city Saturday.

Mrs. T. A. Ellingson and son, Frederick, are week-end Milwaukee visitors.

Paul Hirschhorn of New York, who has been in the local tobacco market the past week, returned to his home Saturday.

Mrs. W. Brown spent the week end at Madison calling on her brother, Fred Laplant.

Miss Fannie Sutton spent Sunday at the home of her daughter at Janesville. August Bodel and daughter, spent Sunday with friends at Elm Grove.

Prof. F. O. Holt was a business caller at Madison Saturday.

Miss Cella Weed, commercial teacher in the schools at Stoughton, called on Miss Lucretia Lucy Saturday.

About fifty attended the hard time party Friday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church. Games and a social evening constituted the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller were over Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pomeroy.

The Rev. J. J. McGinnity of Milton Junction called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doherty Saturday.

Roy Tallard is home on a furlough from the naval training school at Great Lakes, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Labundy of Rockford, Ill. were Sunday visitors at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Labundy.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tolleson spent the day with friends at Stoughton Sunday.

B. Herzog of Watertown, called at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. Herzog, yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Lucile Stark to Frank Schieidt was solemnized at the parsonage of the German Lutheran church parsonage yesterday afternoon. The newly weds are very popular young people among their friends, who all join in wishing them a long and prosperous married life. They left for Milwaukee yesterday afternoon and expect to be gone about a week, after which they will be at home to their friends on the Schieidt farm west of the city.

John Nelson was a week-end business caller at Chicago.

OVER ONE THIRD OF TAX IS COLLECTED

Council to Consider Granting Extension of Time for Paying Taxes at Meeting Tomorrow.

Over one-third of the taxes to be collected in the city of Janesville have been turned over to City Treasurer George W. Muenchow, and there are but eight days more for collection, unless the city commission grant an extension of time at their meeting tomorrow afternoon. The total amount that was entered upon the balanced records this morning was $78,056.64 while there is a total of $216,847.98 to be collected. Last year at this date there was $84,149.60 collected and a fifteen day extension was granted to the taxpayers, before the penalty was imposed. The total income tax collected to date is $8,642.01. While the total amount of tax collections is only a third, more than this per cent of tax payers have already made payments, due to the fact that those having larger amounts invariably hold off until the last day to meet their obligation.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

The office hours of the City Treasurer during the month of January will be from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. Office open during the noon-hour, also open Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock. GEO. W. MUENCHOW, City Treasurer.

When Cricket Was a Crime.

Under a statute of Edward IV, England's great national pastime, cricket, was declared a crime, owing to the game having become so popular that it interfered with archery, the then sport of kings. The law was rigorously enforced, and every person convicted of playing the game was fined £10 and sent to prison besides. It was not until the formation of the famous Hambledon Cricket club in 1749 that the statute was repealed.—Dundee Advertiser.

JEFFRIS' NAME WILL BE PRESENTED WHEN CONVENTION GATHERS

Meeting of Republicans in Madison Thursday Promises to Be Most Interesting.

There is apparently no question now that the coming state wide convention of republicans, on call of the republican state central committee, to be held in Madison on Thursday of the present week, will be a most interesting gathering. It is also probable that aside from the nomination of four delegates at large and two delegates from each congressional district, as delegates to the national republican convention in Chicago in June, the question of selection of a candidate for the United States senate may also come up for consideration.

In this connection Rock county realtors are exceedingly interested. Some weeks ago former State Senator John M. Whitehead formally announced he was a candidate for this nomination, subject to the will of a state convention. Until Saturday, however, no candidate had openly avowed himself, although many names had been mentioned in that connection. On Saturday former State Senator A. L. Kreutzer, of the Madison office, formally launched when he was endorsed for the consideration of the convention by the Marathon county convention.

The learning of the action of Senator Kreutzer, by G. Jeffris of this city, whose candidacy had been tentatively announced some time previous, made an official statement that if the question of selection of a candidate for United States senator came up at the convention at Madison on Thursday his name would be presented.

This brings three known candidates for the nomination in the field and it is probable that others will follow. As far as can be learned at present over fifty will go from Rock county alone to take part in the deliberations, and possibly more. There is a meeting of all republicans called for Tuesday afternoon at four-thirty at the city hall in this city to select further delegates and it is expected that there will be a good attendance.

Jeffris is Urged.
With the field opened to other candidates the friends of Jeffris have begun to announce his candidacy. To this request of other party members many friends and supporters in Rock county, Mr. Jeffris said:

"The question of whether or not my name should be presented to the Madison convention depends largely upon whether or not this convention intends to consider the senatorial situation with respect to candidacies. If the senatorial situation comes up, my name will be presented."

Expect More Than 1,300.
It is known as a fact that between 700 and 800 delegates have already been designated for delegates to the Madison convention, besides the Milwaukee delegation, which already numbers nearly 200, and is expected to be 500.

Reich and Kenosha held their conventions Saturday and Rock county will have a large delegation present Saturday.

At the Marathon county convention Saturday at Watoua, a full delegation was chosen, instructed to present Mr. Kreutzer's name, and he accepted the call. Resolutions passed endorsing Gov. Philipp's policies.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE LAID AT REST

Sad Funerals of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis of the Town of Rock Are Held This Morning.

The funerals of Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis, for a long time residents of Rock county and of the town of Rock, were held this morning at the Catholic church, where a high mass was celebrated over the bodies of the aged couple by the Rev. Father William Mahoney. Rev. Mahoney also delivered the funeral sermon and offered condolence to the members of the family and to the large gathering of friends who were at the church to pay their last respects to the departed.

One of the largest funerals held at St. Patrick's church in some time. The pallbearers for Mrs. Lewis were James Mulligan, J. W. Gunn, M. Finley, George Campbell, John Leary and Patrick Tracy. Those for Mr. Lewis were William Finley, James Carle, James Connell, Andrew Eileon and W. A. Murray carried the bier of Mr. Lewis. The bodies were laid to rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

LACK OF VESSELS RAISES THE GAINS IN MARINE CIRCLES

Ships Pay For Themselves Within Short Space of Time—Few Ships For The Increased Traffic.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Jan. 24.—The year 1915 will be remembered in shipping circles as a year during which sales of steamers reached record levels. The strong demand for vessels was under the pressure of the war, and the preceding year gained still further strength in 1915.

In January, six of the German steamers captured by British and condemned by Prize Court, were offered for sale on the Baltic Mercantile and Shipping Exchange and no less than 142,275 pounds were paid for them, which was an even the most sanguine expectations of the auctioneers. These sales only served to test the strength of the market and except for a brief period, during which the bidders were under the illusion that the House of Commons, and fears were entertained as to excessive taxation upon shipping, there was no indication of any weakening.

The British shipping men are now seriously considering the situation which has been created by the present lack of tonnage. The seriousness of the position of British owners is accentuated in cases where an enormously enhanced price has been paid for a vessel which almost upon purchase has been requisitioned by the British Admiralty.

Quite recently a boat built fifteen years ago at a cost of 40,000 pounds was sold for 60,000 pounds. It was estimated that at the existing high freight rates, a substantial profit would be realized on the sale of such a vessel. The expenditure which would more than counter balance the depreciation in values which is bound to come.

Immediately the vessel was transferred to the navy, and the shipowners were fixed notice of requisition was served, and the purchasers of the boat found themselves saddled with a heavily increased capital expenditure and the sale of the vessel would be released as soon as possible, but at the moment, there is very little prospect of a substantial number of vessels being released. On the other hand, day by day more steamers are being required by the Admiralty.

Hits the British.

British shipping men in consequence do not view the future with any degree of comfort. They have been urged to make every effort to capture German trade, but owing to the impossibility of obtaining delivery of ships, they have been building since the outbreak of the war, inability of shipbuilders to contract for new vessels, and the decided shortage of tonnage which has been created by the present lack of tonnage. The British Board of Trade, admitted by saying "there are not enough ships to go round," they contend that neutral shipowners are in a better position to obtain delivery of ships, and the capture trade of Germany and Austria.

While this shortage exists, and working costs have enormously increased, neutral shipowners are able to step in and obtain the trade which the British owner had planned to capture.

Notwithstanding such setbacks, however, there is no evidence of any weakening in values and sales of vessels which have been transacted during the last few weeks of 1915 prove the market to be as strong as ever, which indicates that prices may soar still higher in 1916.

Values increase.

During the year over 300 British steamers have changed hands and prices have ranged as widely as from three pounds per gross ton up to as much as 42 pounds.

As an instance of the rapidity with which values increased, the case of the steamer, Saint Philips, may be cited. This boat, which was built in 1900, was purchased for 25,000 pounds in December, and early in the following February, it was announced that she had been resold for 41,000 pounds. She is a steamer of 3,100 tons gross.

Another sensational sale was that of the steamer Dorothea, a ship of 2,035 gross tons, built in 1908. In July, 1914, the boat was sold for 25,000 pounds and was resold for 41,000 pounds. She was entered for the war and would come a total wreck. She was purchased as a wreck for the modest sum of 620 pounds. It was found possible to save the craft, and after repairs had been executed the ship changed hands last February for no less a sum than 26,000 pounds.

Perhaps the record of sales is seen in the case of the steamship Winfield, a boat of 2,433 gross tonnage, built in 1901. This ship was first sold in 1907 for 23,300 pounds, resold in May, 1915, for 35,000 pounds, in June, 1915, for 41,000 pounds and in December, 1915, for 56,500 pounds, each sale representing a substantial profit upon her cost.

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.
By ALFRED W. McCANN. (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 7.

Condemned prisoners fed on adulterated food were stricken with disease, but recovered when natural food was restored to them.

Animals, human or dumb brutes, die when their food is wrong. We see what happens when some one feeds another's chickens with bad food, but when a hundred food frauds take away the darling of the home to which the mother and father and mother go for redress?

The very number of food frauds makes it impossible for any one to say to the grand jury: "This particular food killed my little boy or girl."

For months, perhaps for years, one guinea pig food product brought suit after suit to the child's diet of which her body could make no use. Her vitality was snatched by nature's efforts to rid of this excess baggage. She was not this excess baggage, but the child's resistance was particular food. An inadequate combination of foods simply caused her vitality to lose its tone.

Another food, from another source, had been "processed" in a way that removed some of its most indispensable elements. In its debased state it robbed her little frame of the very materials which she required for growth.

Month by month, the artificial combination of loaded drugs or artificial foods wormed its cruel way to the dinner table and all the forces of nature were called in to battle with the unseen enemy of health and life.

Commercial expediency and a blind, heartless hunger for big gain sat by and looked on as the fight was waged in the child's body; but nature had been supplied with poisons fighting materials. The child's resistance was broken at last by the combined attack of unnatural and unsuspected forces buckled, caved in, and she was gone.

There is no pathologist, no lawyer, no district attorney who can accuse the food faker of her death. Let this be fully understood at the beginning.

Before we can correct a single food fraud by law we must bring the body of a dead child into the courtroom and say and prove to the jury: "This child was destroyed by this particular food."

Scientists will be on hand to testify the other way. The food fakers have been paying scientists for twenty years to testify in their behalf.

Judges and jury. I have listened to their testimony and have seen it fail, but the facts have rarely been reported to the public. Fear of advertising losses has closed the columns of the press and the uplift magazine against them. Judges, confused by conflicting expert evidence, in numerous instances have imposed fines of $5.00 upon vendors who have deliberately preserved milk with formaldehyde. Not a word of the heinous crime and the travesty of justice has leaked out to the public.

Case in point: The food faker formed the body of vanilla-lemon, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McNally.

Miss Marion Johnson of Milwaukee is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. O'Connor.

A ten pound baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Morse, Jan. 17.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF MILTON MET THURSDAY

Milton, Jan. 24.—The Alumni association of Milton College held its annual mid-session meeting Thursday evening in the college auditorium. Dr. E. S. Hall, 73, of the Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago, was the guest speaker.

Three committees were appointed, subject to ratification at the annual June meeting, as follows: A local committee to arrange for an all-day alumni meeting at the college, commencing in 1917, consisting of W. P. Clark, '61, chairman; Prof. I. N. Ingalls, '05, of Milton; W. R. Bird, '09, of New Salem; and J. C. Crandall, '10, of Madison.

A committee to increase the enrollment of students: Chairman, Prof. D. D. Ingalls, '05, of Milton; W. R. Bird, '09, of New Salem; and J. C. Crandall, '10, of Madison.

A committee to increase the college endowment fund: Chairman, Dr. James Miller, '79, of Janesville; Dr. Geo. Post, '30, of Chicago; Mrs. Giles Beckup of Waukegan; Dr. J. G. Maxson, '04, of Janesville; and H. M. Pierce, '15, of Belleville.

The speaker of the evening was Prof. Albert Whitford, M.A., who is beloved by all the alumni as their former teacher of mathematics. He read a paper on "History of Milton from Du Lac Academy" to the charter of Milton College.

The college glee club sang "Our Colors," the Milton College song, after which a series of views illustrating Professor Whitford's paper were thrown on the screen by Prof. A. N. Crandall's new stereopticon.

The members of the Miltonian and Orophilian Literary societies of Milton College enjoyed a pleasant evening Saturday night at the home of Miss Belle Courtright, remarks by F. G. Hall, songs by Stanley Horwood of Janesville, remarks by C. C. Ingalls and music by Miss Adelaide Bartholf.

Milton High School Wins. Saturday night, in a very close game, Milton defeated Jefferson 23 to 20. The game started with the rush, Milton securing the lead but the Jefferson fellows braced up and won the half 12 to 11. Milton's captain, Randolph, had great luck with free throws and many points were scored in this way. In the second half Milton again took the lead. Jefferson tied the score and several times it looked bad for Milton, but her squad did some excellent work around Jefferson's basket and broke up several attempts Jefferson made to score. With the score a tie and three minutes to play Milton scored on many points and won a hard fought contest.

As a curtain raiser for the Milton-Jefferson game the girls' basketball team of Milton and Jefferson high schools had the floor. The Junction boys outclassed Edgerton badly and won the game 30 to 18.

President W. C. Daland went to Chicago Friday to attend a meeting of college presidents for the standardization of colleges.

Rev. Dr. Randolph was called to Watworth Saturday to preach the funeral sermon of Mrs. Maxson.

Mr. and Mrs. Monks of Rockford, Ill., spent Sunday at M. C. Whitford's.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey of Albion visited Milton friends Saturday and Sunday.

The east bound passenger train on Saturday morning was two hours late, due to wash-outs.

Mrs. Johnson, from Illinois, is caring for her father, Ole Bergh, who has been ill for some time.

NO MORE "PORK" WILL BE POURED INTO PORTAGE HARBOR. Portage Lake, Wis., Jan. 24.—No protest has been raised here by the recommendation made to congress by the war department that the harbor of refuge, now under construction at this place, be abandoned. The harbor was intended to be a refuge for sailing vessels. The government has already spent $395,520 on the project but sailing vessels have now almost disappeared from the lakes and other harbors afford shelter for those still in commission.

JOHN BULL WILL HAVE HARD TASK RE-BUILDING POWER ON THE OCEANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Jan. 24.—How seriously the war has affected the shipbuilding industry of the world is shown in the official statistics which have been supplied by the leading British shipbuilding firms. During the past year only 1,555 merchant vessels, representing a total of 1,670,610 tons, have been added to the mercantile marine of the world, as compared with 3,185 vessels of 3,484,171 tons during 1914.

While all the combatant nations have obviously suffered in the great east degree, the United Kingdom has been the most seriously affected. The figures relating to British shipbuilding show that only 617 merchant vessels were built, representing a total tonnage of 649,336 tons, as against 1,294 vessels of 1,722,164 tons, during the previous year.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Jan. 24, 1876.—Saturday's forty degrees above zero sank to only nine above this morning.

Boys found the ice above the dam strong enough to bear their weight today. Now everyone, old and young will be able to enjoy the great winter's sport.

E. Hull, treasurer of the town of Lima, settled his accounts with the county last Saturday, that town being the first to pay their taxes. By reference to our file, we see that this town held the same position in the roll last year.

Last evening at the services of the Methodist church on Court street, a number of young men who were there, created quite a disturbance. All their names were taken and if they repeated the same actions, they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Let them take heed and stay away, or if they come, let them behave.

The Sons of Temperance society are to hold a meeting tonight and a large attendance is expected.

The Results DO Take Care of the Cost

The services rendered by The GAZETTE WANT AD in most instances far outweigh the cost.

By a careful system of classification, the small want ad is made as easily found as the large ad. Yet the cost is kept low on the WANT AD.

From the discovery of The GAZETTE WANT AD in Janesville dates the discovery of real efficiency in filling wants.

As a careful "buyer" in the home or the business—the GAZETTE WANT AD should appeal to you.

THEY SAY THIS ISN'T SAFE, BUT I'M GOING TO SKATE ALL OVER THE PLACE!

AND HE DID!

Some Jumper.

Flanagan, shingling the roof of the barn, lost his grip and tumbled to the ground. The farmer saw him fall and rushed out, thinking to find the man killed or badly wounded. But to his astonishment Flanagan was up and jumping about, dusting off his clothes. "Man, aren't you hurt?" the farmer asked.

"Hurt? No," Flanagan replied. "Why, if I'd had on me runnin' shoes I could 'a' leapt twice as far."—Exchange.

Something To Cut And Paste

Animal Window Cards or Magic Lantern Pictures

Big White Bunny

Paste this drawing on a piece of cardboard or strong paper. When thoroughly dry and smooth, cut away all black parts of the picture with a sharp penknife or pointed scissors. Be very careful when cutting that you do not break any of the small, white places which connect the different parts. After the black parts are cut out, paste narrow strips of tissue paper over the holes as follows: A yellow place over the eye; a pink place over the ears; with the outline of Bunny in white. Tissue paper of all colors may be obtained from your dry-goods store for a penny or two. Save this cut-out until you have the whole series, and then make a little scrap-book to keep them in. Look for the new animal next week.

Marrying for Money

By MRS. EVA LEONARD

MARRYING FOR MONEY..... "Daddy, we are going down to the store to see Dudley's den. If you feel like come on down after a while," Marian Townsend, looking lovely in her floating white draperies, ran over to the hammock where her father lay enjoying his Sunday afternoon cigar. His eye followed his son and daughter until they disappeared around the corner; then he turned to the window of his wife's room. The drawn curtains proclaimed that the afternoon nap had not come to an end. He threw away the unfinished end of his cigar, clasped his hands under his head, yawned and closed his eyes.

But a fly persistently settled on the bald spot in his head till he abandoned the idea of sleep and decided to follow the children and see what kind of a place Dudley had fixed up in the attic of the store.

He heard Marian's gay laughter as he climbed the stairs. He could not remember having heard her laugh before since he returned from his wedding trip. He was glad this place is going to be a source of pleasure to them," he thought.

"Here comes Daddy," called Marian excitedly. "Come in dear old daddy. Here is your chair right by the table with my little rocker beside it, just as it used to be long ago when we had a home." She caught his hand and led him to his chair. Dudley clapped him on the back, exclaiming:

"Welcome to my home, Dad. I am keeping open house today. I just telephoned George and Fanny to come down and make it a real home warm."

Jacob Townsend looked around at the familiar furniture. The first wife's picture hung over the lounge where it always had hung since they had moved into the "new house" he had built for her when the business had begun to prosper. How happy she had been. He remembered how her eyes had shone that first night when he came home. She had Marian in her arms and holding the baby toward him, she had said, "I am glad for her sake that we have such a lovely home. Girls enjoy a beautiful home more than boys, I think. And now the girl was contentedly sitting in a warm attic room over the store, in preference to the elegant new house he had built.

"What do you think of it?" asked the son, smiling into his face. "I think you will have many pleasant hours here. I am glad you thought of it."

"I wish I had a home, too," Marian dropped her head on her father's knee, and he stroked her hair.

"We can have this together, Puss. I shall need you to make it seem like a real home," said Dudley, sitting down by her side. "And Daddy will come here sometimes to smoke a cigar before going to the house."

Jacob noticed that they both spoke of "the house." They never called it home.

"I hope both of you will feel free to entertain as much as you like at home. You know Mrs. Tupper will not consider the extra work anything, and no one else will be inconvenienced," Jacob still stroked Marian's hair.

"It isn't home, Daddy. It never can be, but if we can get together here and have good old-fashioned visits so that we will not be lonely, why it will not be as bad."

Marian's voice sounded choked, but she did not raise her head.

"I hear George and Fanny," said Dudley, disappearing hastily down the stairs.

"Oh, Daddy!" cried Marian convulsively clasping his neck. "I have not lost you, have I?"

After a long time George and Fanny appeared, carrying dishes and pans with ice cream and cake.

On account of the weather I decided to try and have a house cooling instead of a house warming. This is a frabulous occasion," Dudley was busy saying.

pear that he no longer means anything to you.

Household Hints

THREE GOOD PIES.

Boiled Cider Pie—For two pies, five spoons cold water, two cups sugar, two eggs, one tablespoon cornstarch. Mix together and bake well with two crusts.

Pumpkin and Marshmallow Pie—One egg, three tablespoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, beat well, add one-half cup pumpkin and one cup milk, ginger and cinnamon to taste. Mix well. Lie deep tin with crust, from ankle bake slowly, three-quarters hour. Remove from oven, cover with halved marshmallows, return to oven and brown.

New Cranberry Pie—Chop one cup each of cranberries and raisins with one-half cup each of nuts and figs. Add scant cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup water. Fill pies and bake until crust is brown.

To prevent pies from coming apart around outer crust, when pie is ready for oven press crust gently from the pan around the edges with the fingers, from the sides of pan; there will be no escape of juice from the pie and it also makes a nicer looking pie.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. Bread Which is Baked Over is fine and better than that baked at first. Take a loaf of stale bread, plunge it in cold water, then out again, put in baking pan and cover. Bake about one-half hour in moderate oven till steamed through. Poor bread which has not thoroughly risen at first baking, will be better and finer grained when rebaked. The bread should be wrapped in a cloth to steam, after being taken from oven.

Easy Way to Cover Buttons—Select the size of button molds you wish. Double a piece of the goods with the right sides together, baste around the edge of one side of button and mark around as many times as you have buttons to cover, spacing them far enough to allow for a small seam around each. Stitch around outer edge of marks on sewing machine, before cutting out. Cut a small slit in center of one side of each button cover and turn, now slip in the button and sew up, using the slit, pin for under side of button. This will look neat and wear well, as the seam is on the edge of button, where the wear comes. Can be done in half the time used in the usual way.

For Help On Cleaning Day, try gasoline. A cloth dampened with it and rubbed over marble washstand and bathtub will remove all stains and soil. A tablespoon of it in pail of water is much better than soap for woodwork and oiled floors or linoleum. If there is dirt in bottom of vase or bottle, pour in a bit of gasoline, then add soapsuds and shake well; dirt disappears at once.

Caution: Never open bottle or jug of gasoline in room where there is gas burning or a fire.

THE TABLE.

Chili Con Carne—One pound steak fine and fried in butter with onion added, then cook till it's tender. Have cup or so of rice cooked, add a can of tomatoes and a can of red kidney beans, then cook all together. Cheap and appetizing dish.

Jambalaya—Fry a few slices bacon cut into inch pieces, with onion; add to a pint of cooked rice and a can of tomatoes.

Stuffed Onions—Scalp the heart out of onions so that cups are formed. With the pieces of onions thus removed mix any kind of sausage meat or raw meat, chop all together with a very little onion, raw potatoes. Stuff onion cups with mixture, put small lump of butter on top, sprinkle with salt and pepper, put into baking pan with one-half cup of tomato sauce.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

WORRY AND DISEASE.

The patient's mental attitude is an important factor in the outcome of an illness. Everybody knows how emotions influence the appetite, digestion, bowel and kidney functions; how fear weakens the face and relaxes the sphincter muscles, and inhibits the circulation; and how faith, confidence, cheerfulness and optimism enable an invalid to put up a better fight for health.

The pallor, faintness, and other disturbances accompanying fear are probably caused by relaxation and dilatation of the splanchnic or abdominal blood-vessels, which are capable of holding one-third of all the blood in the body.

Worry is diluted fear, or a succession of fear states causing a loss of tone which becomes chronic. It is a large dose of fear can cause the marked symptoms mentioned, a continual feeding of fear in small doses will obviously bring on actual disease in time. Somebody, indeed, has referred to the fear of "bronchitis, neurasthenia." Worry is a direct factor of intestinal stasis, with resulting autointoxication and all that that implies.

Fear can paralyze the bowel or the bladder, as is well known. Worry can cause functional disturbances of both organs, as the student about to appear for his final examination has learned to his cost.

A buoyant, courageous, jovial visitor in the sick-room is good medicine for the patient. A pessimistic, gloomy tale-bearer, a person of the "old-fashioned, gossip type is poison in the sick-room.

boiling water. Bake one hour. Spanish Omelette—Eggs, onions, fennel, also a piece of bacon; cut up a can of pimento, beat; brown all in butter, add enough beaten eggs for family; salt and pepper. Stir till creamy. Serve on toast.

Apricot Sauce—Drain juice from stewed apricots and rub them through a sieve. Use half cup powdered sugar and half cup apricot pulp. Beat sugar and pulp together. Whip half cup cream stiff, add it gradually to apricot mixture and serve at once. This is delicious. Peaches may be used instead of apricots, using less sugar.

JUDGE SAYS MASHERS ARE FIT FOR THE INSANE ASYLUMS. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, Jan. 24.—"Mashers, ogres of women and so-called flirts must be slightly unbalanced mentally and fit subjects for the insane asylum," declared Magistrate John J. McGuire of Brooklyn today, discussing the number of such cases that are brought before him. These mashers receive no mercy from me after they have annoyed women and young girls. Any man who tries to make love to a strange woman as she passes him in the street certainly is wrong in the head. I send lost of these fellows to the Kings County Jail for mental observation and if you bet I'll see to it that all of them found guilty in my court will continue to be sent there. The public thoroughfares absolutely must be safeguarded for women and little girls."

the sick room. The visitor who can breathe in, get the patient smiling or laughing and then go while the going is still regrettable is a valuable acquisition. Where there is gloom let smiles and gentle banter come. Doctors have the best of reasons for placing obstacles in the path of the crangelanger who calls to express doubts about the possible recovery of the patient or to detect signs of evil omen which the household as a whole would prefer to overlook.

Let this be borne in mind: No patient can be too sick to profit by an atmosphere of good cheer, and we are all of us susceptible to the dynamic influence of the smile. What climate would you recommend?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Bronchitis. 1. Is bronchitis curable? 2. Is the climate of Chicago bad for it? 3. If I know several girls who use one climate would you recommend?

Answer—1. Bronchitis, in some cases, is curable. 2. So far as moisture and temperature are concerned, Chicago is as good as any other city, but Chicago is more dusty than the air of a mountain resort, for instance. 3. In a general way an equable climate and a moderate elevation are desirable, but it all depends upon individual conditions.

Perseverance Under Arms. Is it dangerous to use a lotion to prevent perspiration under the arms? Is it as good as any other air, without apparent injury.

Answer—It is not dangerous to stop perspiration in the armpits, provided the agent employed does not irritate the skin.

VOCATIONAL GUIDE FOR CHOOSING MEN DURING LEAP YEAR

Seeing Its Leap Year, Bachelor Gives Advice On How To Pick The Right Man.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Cleveland, O., Jan. 24.—To all daughters of Eve who have leap year intentions, the vocational guide and well known bachelor, William J. Kibby, today offers advice concerning the habits, characteristics and dispositions of various sorts of men, which is intended to help the girls win their hearts' desires without suffering rebuff in the process. A good deal of what Kibby says is based upon psychology. A man who has thin, straight lips is branded a cold blooded, story hearted creature upon whom the dearest girl's appeal would have no effect. This sort of man will do his own proposing, run his own wedding and rule his household, and he'll do it more with his head than his heart. But if the man of your choice has full well-formed lips Kibby says you may depend upon his capacity for manly inclination to love. He also is susceptible to the right sort of feminine approach. Kibby says the way to tell whether the one you love, loves you, is by the coloring of the under lip. If he is with you. Every human emotion gives some physical demonstration when it is aroused. The evidence that love is in the under lip is his under lip is perpetually pale when he is with you, he doesn't love you. If it is crimson and you want him, he will be quick. He won't run. A man with a broad, fleshy mouth and forehead is a good business man; he can plan ahead, has good business judgment. If the crown of his head is high and round, he is absolutely conscientious, too; and if the back of his head is well rounded out, he will love is home, his wife and his children and show them consideration above everything else in the world. The man whose head is flat on top, flat almost even with his ears, has the back and narrow forehead, shortened on the front; whose lips are thin, whose eyes are cold, will not make a good husband in any case of the word, says Kibby. The longer a man's jaw bone, the greater his capacity for affection, according to Kibby. All these things are as applicable to women as to men, in the expert's opinion.

1. Don't propose to a man who has thin lips. He will scorn you.

2. Don't propose to a man who has just a thin upper lip. He'll scorn you.

3. Don't propose to a man whose head runs straight up from the back of his neck. He loves neither home nor wife.

4. Don't propose to a man with a super-critical eye. He'll make you sorry.

5. Don't propose to a man who has restrained, quiet, indifferent manner, or a purely selfish disposition.

6. Propose to a man who has a full but not too full, lips. He will love you.

7. Propose to a man who has a good sized bump at the base of his head? He's a good family man and loves wife and home.

8. If you love a man who has a twinkle in his eye, propose to him. You'll get him.

9. If you love a man who has a frank, open manner, you'll probably get him, too.

10. If you want a money-maker, get one who has a forehead as broad and square and long. He will bring home the cash every time.

Making a Beginning. "Could you all lead me a grindstone?" asked Drastus Pinkley.

"Yes, but what do you want with a grindstone? You haven't any ax."

"No, ner I ain't got no wood to chop, ner no chicken an' corn bread to cook over de fire. But you got to do one thing at a time in dis life, an' I jes' natchally had to stahst somewhere."

—Washington Star.

Exactly So. "My dear child, you should not spend so much time in vain indulgence at the mirror."

"Why, ma, how can you say so? I am sure it is time spent in serious reflection."—Baltimore American.

LET'S MAKE A LAW.

"I should think there'd be a law against that," a dear old friend of mine has a habit of saying whenever her indignation is aroused by any abuse or any harmful custom.

If we could only settle all the abuses in the world by getting laws passed, how simple things would be!

I think one of the first laws I would try to get passed would be one forbidding people who know of cases in which there was a serious outcome of a disease similar to the one from which their hearer or some member of their hearer's family is suffering, to tell about them.

You don't exactly understand the bearing of that law. Well, suppose we make it plainer by an instance.

The Symptomatic. A friend of mine had a child who was suffering from a rash in a tonsillitis case. "Isn't that a shame?" said a sympathetic neighbor. "Now you want to get real careful about letting her get up. My cousin, who's a nurse, just came off a case where a child had heart trouble from tonsillitis. She was on the case for four months."

You can imagine how cheering that information was to the mother. I know it added greatly to her anxiety in the two or three miserable days before her little girl began to get better. Incidentally, you may be interested to know that the case was not in the least serious.

Begin, a relative of mine is troubled by ingrowing toe nails. She mentioned to an office mate that she was going to a chiropodist for treatment and the latter promptly told her that she had a friend of hers who had an ingrowing toe nail and who finally had it cut. "And the wound didn't heal, and didn't heal, and finally she had to go back to the hospital and now they are afraid she may lose her foot."

That Information Wasn't A Sedative. Needless to say, that didn't act as a sedative to the pain in my friend's foot.

Of course, some will say that these calamity howlers may be actuated by the best of motives. They want to warn their friends lest a similar fate befall them.

Maybe so, but I think they could do it with a little more tact and gentleness than they usually employ.

Of course, such is as sore toes, boils and even that most humorous of diseases, sea-sickness, have been known to end fatally, but the chances are nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine to one the other way.

And warning a friend tactfully if other women occasionally in a well-ventilated room. If you were working with it constantly in a factory it might be dangerous. The person who sent me this query may think I was slow in answering it, but the reason is that I answered by letter and the letter was returned because she gave me a wrong or insufficient address.

Heart and Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been writing to a girl in another town and I have written things that I am sorry for now. I encouraged her to think I cared a great deal for her and some of my letters were really love letters. I realize that I have made her care for me, a thing I do not intend to do.
